Is it true? Is summer half over because 4th of July has come and gone. Regardless, I hope all of you enjoyed a happy, healthy celebration.

A Couple weeks ago, I was going to make my granddaughter a fun pillowcase for her birthday. I thought half hour and it will be done. It turned into a very frustrating project. My machine would not sew very well. I oiled it, I changed thread and rewound bobbin, played with tension, cleaned out the bobbin area, everything I thought would fix it. I finally consulted my manual. It said to change the needle. I was sure I had changed it recently because the broken needle from zipper incident was still nearby. I put in a new needle anyway and it sewed like a champ. You know I change the needle for every new quilt on my long arm. Guess I better start trying the simple fix first!!!

We still need to work on acquiring a full board. We are still in need members to fill the positions of newsletter editor and elect, program chair and elect and PR/historian. Please consider volunteering. I know its hard to commit to all of the meetings but there is always someone to fill in for you when you need to be gone. Please, please consider filling these positions.

Quilting your Quilt information

Angela Walters is another quilter I feel is a good resource for longarm or domestic quilting. Her website is quiltingismytherapy.com. Many of her rulers are for either type of machine and have grips already on them. She also has pdf's that show you how to use the rulers and also gives you instruction for some free motion designs like wood grain. (Some will need to be purchased). I have bought her rulers elsewhere and then contacted customer service on her website to get the pdf's and they made them available for free. You can find a few of them by going to: <https://quiltingismytherapy.com/product-category/how-to-pdfs/>

Angela has many videos, challenges and chats. You can query Angela Walters tutorials and they will show up for you to view. She shows you how to use her rulers and also has many other videos such as paisley, swirl and flower meander. She can be quite entertaining!!! She also has many books which I like to use. I have her both her books on quilting shapes ('Shape by Shape'). They are quite handy. Hopefully if you are interested, you might find her interesting.

QUILTS TO SHARE

Quilts to Share Work Days are held each Monday of the month, except the third Monday, from 9am to 3 pm. Stop in to work with others on QTS projects for all or part of the day. Sewing machines and all supplies are available. Nothing to prepare, no machine to drag around, just come. Please bring a sack lunch if you are planning to be there at noon.

If you are unable to come on QTS work days and need kits, fabric to launder, or quilts to quilt on your own, just give me a call.

PROGRAMS AND WORKSHOPS

July 19,2021

Due to family medical issues, our July workshop leader asked to postpone her visit to us. Instead during the day we will have a “Sit and Sew” where we finish projects we have started (especially any we can show Jodie next month, those paper piecing projects she started us on) OR we can try new ones with help from those around us. Bring your sewing machine and join us as we finish our UnFinished Projects!!

Workshop: Sit and Sew

Program: The evening program will bring Carl Hensch from Tama to give us his program on “Color 101.” Carl moved to Tama around three years ago after spending some time on the west coast with HGTV, Martha Stewart, etc. He designs quilt patterns, has retreats and has just recently opened a storefront in Tama featuring antiques and fabric. He is attracted to the Tula Pink and Kaffe Fassett lines of fabrics. Carl has a website www.3DogDesignCo.com which is very interesting! Laura Richter and Sue Bauer stopped in to meet him and we're excited to have him speak to us on a subject members requested in our May survey!
